HAYES JONES AS A THIEF CATCHER

Was aided by Gabe Stokes in Capturing Double Horse Thief--Offender a Madisonville Negro.

Hayes Jones, of Mortons Gap, has developed into a first-class thief and through his efforts and discernment two Madisonville men are richer by a horse and one saddle horse thief is a boarder with Jailer Rodgers. On Sunday night, October 23, a negro came to Mr. Jones at the mines and had with him a good, young horse, which he offered for $27 and a pistol. It was a stormy night and the negro did not stay long, Mr. Jones telling him he might buy a plug, but did not want to invest in a fine horse. The following Friday night the same negro came again and this time he brought a plug at the other end of the halter. Mr. Jones was suspicious from the first and this time induced the man to stay till daylight in order, as he said, that he might see the horse good. He managed to get Gabe Stokes to the mines and they detained the negro and placed him under arrest on suspicion. He was lauded in jail and the plug turned out to be the property of Claud Robertson, of Madisonville.

It was also ascertained that the horse Mr. Jones had first seen was the property of Norman Seats, also of Madisonville. This latter horse was later recovered near Trenton from a man who had bought it for $20 and a pistol. The negro's home was at Madisonville and his name is John Clark. A reward was offered by Mr. Seats of $25.00 for information that would lead to the recovery of his horse.

Mrs. Dr. W. K. Nisbet was in Madisonville Saturday.

L. & N. FIREMAN

Perhaps Fatally Injured by Being Scalded.

While L. & N. through freight No. 37, south bound, was standing on a siding at Pembroke Friday morning, one of the boiler valves blew out and a stream of escaping boiling water struck fireman Yates on the head and face, badly scalding him. His injuries are of such a serious character that they may cause his death. He was taken to Nashville, to his home, after his wounds were dressed by Dr. J. R. Paine.

Will Issue Holiday Edition.

The Semi-Weekly Bee will issue a 24 page Holiday edition on December 13. This will give the merchants an opportunity to get their advertising before the people in ample time, and will also give the people plenty of time to do their Christmas shopping after the paper is issued.

Never in the history of the county have such abundant crops been raised as have been this past season; never before will the holidays be more fitly and abundantly celebrated. It will be this if the present outlook of things can be regarded as a sure forerunner of such an event. Everyone will look to you to supply their wants in gifts for all members of the family, you will be expected to carry everything necessary and unnecessary. How will they know you have these articles unless you tell them; how can you tell them cheaper than by a well arranged advertisement in the Semi Weekly Bee, with its thousands of readers.

We will ask you to think over this matter and when our solicitor calls on you, which will be in a few days, aid us by giving to our holiday edition a good patronage, and to your customers a good sound talk on your store advantages.

North Pole Discovered by an Irishman

In 1360

Naval Department officials have unearthed an old history in which the claim is made that the North Pole was discovered in 1360 by a friar of Oxford. It is called a "new naval history or complete view of the British marine," and was published by Jno. Entick in London, 1757. On one of its musky pages the following paragraph appears:

"To the year 1360 it is recorded that a friar of Oxford called Nicholas DeLinna, or O'Flynn, being a good astronomer, went in company with others to the most northern island of the world, and there, leaving his company together, he traveled alone and made draughts on all the northern parts with the in drawing seas; which at his return he presented to the King of England."

It is added that he went to the North Pole by means of his skill in magic of the black art; but this magic or black art may probably have been nothing more than knowledge of the magic needle or compass, found out about sixty years before though not in common use until many years after.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS

May be Established in Kentucky Soon--Efforts Are Being Made.

The plan to raise the money necessary to build and equip a Home for the Friendless in Kentucky has not been fully determined upon but another meeting of the officers of the society was held last Monday night week and the outlook discussed. It was agreed that the public should be made acquainted fully with the objects of the society and the class of people that will be reached and benefited by it. After this is done through the new papers and by circulars and pamphlets, then a subscription fund will be started to raise enough to erect buildings to accommodate the unfortunate who will be asked to partake of the benefits provided by the home. Unfortunate girls who have been led astray, ex-prisoners who have no friends and other unfortunate will be taken into the home and provided for till the officers are convinced that their reform is sincere, then a position where they can earn a livelihood will be provided. The home like this in other states have really done a wonderful work and it is said that ninety per cent of the ordinary inmates are permanently reformed and prove useful citizens. Rev. T. F. Taliaferro is the leader in the movement in this state and he will make an untiring effort to carry out the plan to build the home. Frankfort News.

Civic Pride.

One of the traits of a wide awake, progressive town is civic pride. It is a good trait, for whole sometimes it leads one to making slightly exaggerated statements, yet in the main it is a good, healthy feeling for the individual, and at all times conducive to the prosperity and growth of the city. It makes one vigorous in defence and persistent in upbraiding; it is an incentive to industry; it makes the individual contented and therefore happy. Believe in your town and talk your belief. If you have any old fogies remember they are in the minority, and that it takes all kinds of people to make a world anyway. Encourage live people to move in by making it worth their while. Welcome outside capital in developing any natural resources the town has. Don't begrudge the dollars the enterprising man makes, but hustle around and collar a few yourself. Above all "pull together," and the town will ride the high wave of prosperity over the most discouraging breakers, and every inhabitant will get his or her share of the profit from the voyage.

THERE IS A REASON

Why it pays to advertise in the SEMI-WEEKLY BEE:
It reaches a large number of wage earners who take no other paper.

It has an almost exclusive circulation in a community where $50,000.00 in money is paid out each month.

It is read by hundreds of people who buy what they want and who have money to pay for what they buy.

The only way to get your advertisement before the people of Earlinton, Mortons Gap, St. Charles and immediate vicinity is through the medium of the Earlington Bee. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

AUTUMN THOUGHTS

J. E. FAWCETT.

Out of the gathering darkness
The ripe nuts gently fall.
And from the heart of the wild-wood
Comes the bob-white's thrilling call.
The twilight softly creeping,
O'er stream, and hill and dale
Weaves all the glancing shadows
Into one misty veil.

The air is laden with fragrance
From the rain-wet trees,
And the crimson leaves fall lightly.

Loosed by the Autumn breeze,
The sound of a bell in the distance
Mingles with that of the stream.
While the spell of Autumn comes o'er me.

Like a calm and peaceful dream,
My heart goes out to nature,
And I worship nature's God,
As I watch the willow stars
Frem my bed on the Autumn sod.
And I think perhaps the angels
Steal out from the gates on high,
To light these glowing tapers,
That shine for you and I.

TRAGEDY AT MORTONS GAP

One Man Killed and Another Seriously Wounded—Trouble Arose Over Dinner.

What came near being a double killing took place at Mortons Gap Sunday noon. It seems that the head of the Talladega Construction Co., Mr. Brooks, did not like the cooking done by the wife of William Williams, colored, and remonstrated with her with a pick handle. Williams took up the quarrel and Brooks pulled a pistol and shot him six times. Williams died before he was carried to the depot. Williams in turn shot Brooks one time and he was carried to Nashville on 51 Sunday afternoon to be operated on. A report from Nashville received Monday at noon says there is a slight chance for his recovery.

Someone broke in the front window of the Grand Leader Friday night and swiped five men's heavy shirts. Tom Logas was asleep in the rear of the building but the thief worked so quietly he was not awakened. Night watchman Hamby came up the street on his round and the burglar was evidently frightened away before he secured all he wanted. Mr. Hamby said it was a tall man and had on a long overcoat but he could not tell whether he was white or black.

FARMERS

Remember The
Loose Floor Sale

Will begin November 15, and if you don't get a good price for your tobacco it will be your fault.

We have the competition which makes a good market. You know you can't have a good market without competition. I know some of the buyers will tell you that it costs too much to sell on the

LOOSE FLOOR!

Now, neighbors, you may not know it, but if you sell to that buyer you are sure to pay him a GREAT BIG COMMISSION on your tobacco. You will never know how much. But remember he is not out for his health. When you sell on the LOOSE FLOOR you know exactly what it costs you. You pay 10 cents per 100 pounds, or 3 1/2 cents. In other words you get 97 1/2 cents on the dollar and give me 2 1/2 cents and 10 cents per 100 pounds, which is as cheap as any man can work for and give you honest service. And another point you should consider is that when you sell on the Loose Floor you get what your tobacco sells for with

NO DOCK!

You get pay for just what your tobacco weighs at the price it sells for, which is not always the case when you sell at your barn. And another buyer will ride for miles through the rain and mud to buy your tobacco and tell you that the Loose Floor has about quit business, and they are just giving the tobacco away up at Blank's Factory. He will tell you that he will pay you more for your tobacco at the barn than he can buy the same tobacco for on the Loose Floor.

Now, farmers, are you going to be deceived by a man like that? Common sense teaches us that if these men could buy tobacco cheaper on the Loose Floor than at the barn that every one of them would put their horses in the stable and go to the Loose Floor and buy their entire purchase.

We are now enlarging our floor space and will be ready in due time. We will be prepared to handle about 100,000 pounds daily. If you want to get the best price for your tobacco sell it on the open market. I will appreciate your patronage and guarantee a

SQUARE DEAL!

Remarkable Railroad.

A. A. Bond, a civil engineer, who has been employed for several years constructing railroads in Ecuador, South America, but who has been on a visit to relatives in this county for several months, will return to Ecuador in a few days. Mr. Bond is employed as chief engineer of the Guayaquil and Ruito railway, one of the most remarkable railroads in the world. The railroad runs through a low tropical country for fifty-four miles and then starts climbing the Andes Mountains, using 34 per cent. grades with switch back loops until it reaches an elevation of over two miles above the sea level. For the next 150 miles the railroad follows the high plateaus until it reaches Quito at an elevation of 9,000 feet. In the morning the passengers can secure an abundance of tropical fruits of every description and by evening they are in a climate where peaches, apples, grapes, etc., grow.

The railroad passes within six miles of the perpetual snows of Chimboraz and the active volcanoes Cotapaxi and Tungurahua. Mr. Bond believes there is a great opportunity for investment in Ecuador, as there are millions of acres of rich, low country, which can be secured at a very low figure and when cleared will produce, tobacco, corn, sugar-cane, coffee, cotton, rubber, ivory nuts from which buttons are made, bananas, cocoa nuts, pineapples, rice and cacao from which chocolate is made. Cactus from which rope is made.

With the opening of the Panama canal Ecuador will be only nine days' sail from New Orleans. Mr. Bond has spent 24 years in Ecuador, and is returning on a two-year contract. Mrs. Bond with her two little sons and father, W. A. Newton, will join Mr. Bond about the first of the year.

Don't Do This.

If you wish to cultivate a gossiping, meddling, censorious spirit in your children, be sure, when they come home from church, a visit or any place to which you do not accompany them to play them with questions concerning what everybody wore, how everybody looked, and what everybody said and did; and if you find anything in all this to censure always do it their hearing. You may rest assured if you pursue a course of this kind, they will not return to you unladen with intelligence; and rather than it should be uninteresting, they will by degrees learn to embellish in such a manner as shall not fail to call forth remarks and expressions from you. You will, by this course, render a spirit of curiosity—which is early visible in children, and which, if rightly directed, may be made the instrument of enriching and enlarging their minds—a vehicle of mischief which shall serve only to narrow them.
